HEAD TEACHER'S NOTE

The temporary hoardings have come down and the steel structure is rapidly going up, so there is great excitement as we see progress being made on a daily basis. Morgan Sindall have created a twitter feed that I would recommend following and retweeting – to be found @BelhamBuild, or by searching belhamschoolbuild. Finally one of our parents, David Hingamp, has created a fantastic aerial film of the site - search 'Belham school aerials, Peckham, London' on Youtube. Definitely worth watching and discussing with your Belhamites.

CHILD EATING DISORDER REFERRAL LINE

South London and Maudsley NHS Foundation Trust has advised the school of their dedicated telephone line for referral to the Maudsley Child and Adolescent Eating Disorders Service. Parents who are concerned that their child may have an eating disorder can call the referral line on 020 3228 2545, 9am to 6pm, Monday to Friday. The service has been highlighted as gold standard, best practice example of a specialist community child and adolescent eating disorder service in NHS England's Commissioning Guidance. Parents will need to provide the following information when making a call:

- Child's recent height and weight measurements
- Rate of any weight loss
- Estimated daily food and fluid intake over the last week
- Presence of any bingeing, vomiting, laxative use or over-exercising

RED NOSE DAY

Friday 24 March is Red Nose Day in aid of Comic Relief. Children are encouraged to come to school with 'funny hair' – this could be a wig, a spiky style, coloured spray or just a silly headband. Buckets collecting donations for Comic Relief will be situated at the gates during drop-off at both school sites.
